HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

THE LANDS OF THE ABOVE NAMED ASSOCIAtion are situated in San Francisco and are eligibly and most desirably located, adjoining the grounds purchased by the Presbyterian University Society, on which College buildings are to be at once erected. The site is less than thirty minutes ride from Montgomery street, lying just west or back of the lands of the South San Francisco Homestead and Railroad Association and the Bay View Park, almost within a stone's throw of ST. MARY'S COLLEGE.

The tract will require little or no grading, there being scarcely a single lot on which it would not be safe to build without any change of grade. It commands a

Beautiful View of the Bay,

And its opposite shore, and has a soil of extreme richness. So great are the natural attractions of the spot that very many of the wealthy citizens of San Francisco have already purchased whole blocks in the same tract, and design building residences thereon.

The Rev. E. Thomas, D. D.,

Is President of the Association; Lester L. Robinson formerly Vice President of the Sacramento Railroad Company, is the Treasurer, and Thomas H. Lewis, formerly of Portland, Secretary.

Four lots, 25x120 feet each, constitute a share, costing $315—paid in monthly installments of $30 each, after the first payment of $25 has been made.

Maps and books giving full information of the workings of the Association can be obtained at the store of J. L. PARRISH & CO.

It is an easy and cheap way for young men to procure property which will in a few years make them independent.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO MAY 13.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The decision of the District Court of California in the Patrero case is confirmed. The court holds that the DeHaro grant was a mere license terminable at pleasure and void at the death of DeHaro. His representatives could enter and recover property left but had no further rights. Justice Field dissented from the opinion of the Supreme Court in the DeHaro case.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The Mississippi case has been amended by making Arkansas a party to the complaint. It will probably be argued on Friday. It is thought that the Arkansas treasury case will bring the case within the jurisdiction of the court.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The Washington Supreme Court has dismissed the Georgia reconstruction case.

Jeff Davis Released.

RICHMOND, May 13.—Judge Underwood complimented Gen. Burton for his promptness in clearing the lawn and relieving him of the custody of Jeff. Davis. The Marshall immediately served a bench warrant on Jeff. Davis to answer at Norfolk under an indictment for treason. O'Conor spoke of the long imprisonment and feeble health of Davis, and asked that he be bailed. No opposition was offered by the prosecution, who fixed the bail at $100,000. The Judge stated that half the bail must be furnished by residents of Virginia. Horace Greeley was the first bondsman. Augustus Schell, Mr. Jacksons and others came forward and the sureties were accepted. There was no demonstration. Davis went to the Spotswood House.

The court-room was crowded when Davis' case came up. The counsel for Davis, and Chandler and Evarts for the Government, were present. Burton made his return on the writ of habeas corpus by producing Davis to the custody of the court.

Further from Richmond.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The Tribune does not anticipate a riot in Richmond, but says the white men have given the negroes bad counsel, which some of them have been foolish enough to take.

RICHMOND, May 13.—The general opinion is that Judge Underwood will decide to order the commitment of Davis to Libby Prison, which is more comfortable than it was during the existence of the Confederacy, still there is almost universal repugnance to sending him there.

NEW YORK, May 14.—The Times special says Davis will be sent to Libby. The same correspondent says all the leading newspapers in the country are represented here. Horace Greeley has been closeted with Underwood. Mrs. Davis held a public levee nearly all day. Jeff Davis was invisible to the crowd, but cheerful to the few whom he saw.

RICHMOND, May 13.—Jeff Davis was hailed by Horace Greeley, Augustus Shell and Judge Jacksman.

Central America.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Advices from Panama to May 3d say the Colombian Government has abandoned the assessment of tonnage tax on foreign vessels at Panamanand is receiving no tax on the Isthmus line. The tax has been ordered to be refunded. The French steamer Navarre left Aspinwall without waiting for the California passengers. The Rayo is stated to be the property of Mosquera. The draft from the parties in New York who sold the vessel was protested.

No steps have been taken by Chile for the settlement of the Spanish troubles. Preparations are in progress to resist invasion. The Allied fleet was at Valparaiso, consisting of nine vessels.

The Spanish frigate De Blasco lay alongside the Rayo in Carthagena Bay, and the Captain made a demand on the town authorities concerning the Rayo, and received an evasive answer. The Captain dismissed the Rayo by removing part of her machinery.

The Peruvian Congress has declared that all disagreement with Chile is at an end. The two countries are more firmly united than ever.

General Salmun, the new American Minister to Colombia, has arrived.

It is stated that Mosquera intends, with the Rayo, to strike a blow at the Spanish interests in the Caribbean Sea.

Southern Items.

MACON, Ga., May 12.—John Beckwith, of New Orleans, has been elected Bishop of Georgia.

CHARLESTON, May 12.—General Sickles has issued an order concerning the seizures of any kind of real estate or personal property sequestered by the Confederacy, and requiring all the officers to report at the headquarters all particulars of the sequestration.

The Republican State Convention adjourned to meet at Columbia, July 24th. A platform was adopted, affirming adhesion to Northern Republicans.

Religious Matters.

MEMPHIS, May 12.—The Baptist Convention made its sessions annual instead of biennial, and appointed Baltimore as the place for the next session, which will be held in May, 1868.

The Episcopal Convention will be held here next Tuesday, and the Presbyterian Convention will be held on Wednesday.

The Millerites predicted that this would be the day of judgment. Several merchants in consequence closed their stores and settled their accounts.

RICHMOND, May 12.—Jeff. Davis will be produced tomorrow in Court by Burton and immediately discharged. He will be re-arrested on a bench warrant to answer the indictment for treason, found by the Grand Jury of Norfolk. O'Conor tells his friends to insist on an immediate trial. If it be not granted, a motion to admit Davis to be bailed will be made. It is the general opinion that there will be no trial just now. Horace Greeley, Augustus Schell, A. Welch and Gen. Gorman, of Philadelphia, are there for the purpose of going bail for Davis.

Another riot occurred in the lower portion of the city last night. Negroes attempted to rescue a drunken negro from the police. Bricks, clubs and pistols were used. The company guarding the Libby prison was called out and captured eighteen rioters. Mounted soldiers patrolled the streets to-day. Squads of police are armed with swords.

All the churches of the negroes were threatened because the negroes would force themselves into churches with whites. A large procession of whites attended a negro funeral. There was also an unarmed militia company, the officers of which carried swords. Judge Underwood and Horace Greely delivered short addresses to the negroes at the African church this evening, urging them against rioting. Gen. Schofield said that in case of riot they would plant cannon in every street and sweep the rioters down with grape. Judge Underwood told the negroes not to gather in crowds, but to go about their business.

J. E. Heywood, of Massachusetts, was arrested last night for using incendiary language and giving bad advice to the negroes. He was released on $5,000 bail. There have been apprehensions of a riot all day.

Miscellaneous.

QUEBEC, May 12.—Orders have been received to place the vice regal residence at Spencer Wood in order for the early reception of the Governor General and family.

BUFFALO, May 12.—The southern portion of the bay is still blocked. Several vessels are yet ice bound, and the troops are suffering for the want of provisions.

HAVANNAH, May 12.—Gen. Geary is informed that Capt. A. H. and O. Brown, the alleged murderers of the two brothers Cook, sometime since, have been arrested. A reward was offered by the Legislature of Pennsylvania.

MONTREAL, May 12.—Reports are in circulation that arms have been collected on the frontier at different points.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The last factory of Doubleday & Co. was burned a few days ago, and nearly a thousand men thrown out of employment. Loss $80,000—fully insured.

Wright, Stanley and Walton Bradford, who were arrested on the charge of robbing a safe in the navy yard in 1864 were discharged for want of evidence.

Gen. Sedgwick is on the way home to be mustered out. He professes to have papers showing that the occupation of Matamoras was in obedience to orders.

CHICAGO, May 12.—The report of the burning of the steamer Mariner on the Indiana on the upper Missouri river is discredited here. The boat is partly owned in Chicago, and had several prominent citizens of Chicago among her passengers.

The Hope of the Country.

It is no boast to say that the Union-Republican party is the party of education It is an unquestionable fact Nobody will deny that most of the educational institutions of the country are in the interest of that party It holds them now as it has held them for the last ten years, and this hold is continually growing firmer and stronger The progress of that party has been a conscious effort for the improvement of the masses of the people It is not afraid of education, but it is afraid of ignorance. In this respect it differs radically from the Democratic party Modern Democracy looks for its steadiest, surest support among the ignorant classes. The appeal of a leading Democratic journal to its friends, urging them to hasten to secure the negro vote before these people could learn to read, well illustrates this fact The danger of discussion is the greatest danger which that party fears For years it has fought against this peril, and for years it has steadily lost ground upon this issue Popular education throughout the revolted States will turn them away also from the Democratic party, unless that party changes its habits and takes the lead in the movement. Can it do this? A large proportion of those who compose that organization are totally opposed to all reform, and these persons will hold their party back and prevent it from taking the only course that could possibly bring it into power. But the great Republican party is constantly gaining strength among the people by its adherence to liberty, by the spread of intelligence and by the dissemination, through innumerable agencies, of enlightened ideas. It controls the education of the country, and so long as it does this it will have the destinies of the country in its hands.

Mexico.

Two weeks ago it was announced that cruel fortune had dealt a final blow to Maximilian. His army had been routed by the Mexican Liberals, driven from Queretaro and dispersed, slain or captured, and the parvenu Emperor himself was a fugitive, seeking safety in the concealment of obscure and unknown hiding-places. This intelligence, however, to use an old phrase, "lacked confirmation," and so far has failed to receive it. On the contrary, the greater part of it is now flatly contradicted, and Maximilian still remains a principal object of the speculations of the newsgatherers. It is very easy for a New York paper to put him summarily out of the way by a brief special from the Rio Grande; but having too many lives to be cheated out of all at once, his recovery invariably follows these announcements of his fall. It appears that he is still in Queretaro with his army, though undoubtedly he is hardly pressed and in a critical situation. But there is one feature of the news which has been confirmed. Miramon is dead This event is a severe blow to the Imperialists. A traitor to his country, he has done Mexico more harm than all other traitors who espoused the cause of the invaders. He was the head and chief reliance of the domestic factions opposed to the Republic, was the leader of the proscriptive and faithless Church party, and the principal inciter and perpetrator of the bloody massacre of Mexican prisoners. He was a monster whose crimes were inexpiable, and the utmost effort of vengeance could not have dealt with him as he deserved.

An English journal in speaking of American affairs once expressed the opinion that notwithstanding all his blunders and obstinacy and lack of wisdom, Andrew Johnson would prove to his country a blessing in disguise. It is not easy to look at these things with the eye of faith and find consolation in reflections of this kind, it is not natural for those who have found their hopes thwarted and their highest trusts abused by a man in whom they once confided, to be thankful for his follies and regard them as a happy omen of better things; but it begins to look as if the English philosopher may have been nearer right than any of us would once have been willing to concede. The consequences of the political agitation of the last two years are appearing in the prompt obedience of the South to mandates of loyalty; in the clearing up of old prejudices among the people and the more general recognition of the doctrine of equal rights, and in the consequent preparation of the country for a more efficient, thorough and enduring reconstruction than could have been attained without this searching discussion and prolonged controversy. The whole subject has been cleared up under this process, and every successive step has been a victory for liberty, for justice and for equal rights. The impediments that have been thrown in the way have only accelerated these results, and though it is probable there are few who can feel truly thankful for Andrew Johnson, there are many who can see that this agitation has been of the greatest advantage to the country.

Horace Greeley advises everybody to buy land Undoubtedly this is good advice for those who can make any use of land after they purchased it, but Greeley thinks that every man, whatever his occupation or business may be, should, if possible, invest a part of his money in this way. We cannot regard this feature of his advice as of practical value to individuals, or of advantage to the country at large. It is a general fact that whoever owns land, not residing upon or working it himself, but engaged in other business, finds his land unprofitable to him [Greeley himself owns two or three, and perhaps more, farms. He is wealthy, and makes money rapidly in other pursuits, and hence is able to keep his farms from running him in debt. It may be well enough for him to spend his money in this way, but all have not the means to follow his example; and it is better as a general thing that investments should be made in a way that will yield a profit rather than cause a loss. Many farms in this State are owned by men who are engaged in other branches of business, and it would be difficult, as all know, to find an instance where such an investment is a profitable one It would seem to be a very good idea to proceed in this matter as in all other cases where investments are made Buy land if you can make use of it, but if you can make no use of it leave such purchases to those who can.

The one hundred thousand volumes which the Appletons of New York have given to the Trustees of the Peabody Southern Educational Fund, are 25 000 copies of Webster's Elementary Speller, 25,000 copies of Webster's Elementary Reader, 25,000 copies of Cornell's First Steps in Geography, 20,000 copies Quackenbos' Primary Arithmetic, 6,000 copies of Yuackenbos' First Book in Grammar.

A general "bolt" from the Democratic party has occurred at Walla Walla An address is published signed by two or three hundred persons dissenting from the action of the Democratic County Convention, and calling for a mass convention to meet on the 14th of May, to take further action. A fresh ticket will be nominated

The Idaho Statesman says there is no doubt that the act of Congress putting off the election in that Territory for two years is an unalloyed blessing Everybody is satisfied with it The Idahoans are too "hard up" just now to be anxious to engage in a political campaign.

A stage on the way down from Idaho city to Boise a few days ago, was lost in Moores creek. The driver and passengers escaped with difficulty. The wheel horses got out half a mile below, but the leaders and the coach were lost

The assessed value of property in Walla Walla County is $1,743,603.

The Mountaineer publishes the following date 1 Canyon City, May 6th A rumor is circulated this afternoon which, if it proves to be true will give a new life to the country and energy to the quartzing enterprise of our mining community The news is this, That some soldiers have found rich prospects somewhere within twenty or thirty miles of Dixie Creek, (about fifty miles from here) also that they found there wagon tires, ox yokes, etc, and the remains of a buried child If true, this may be the place described by some emigrants who were on this place some twenty years ago Parties from Dixie have started out for the new Eldorado and we will soon know if the statements above are corroborated or not

The enterprise for the manufacture of pottery at Buena Vista, Polk county is proving very successful The Eugene Journal says that the persons engaged in it are experienced in the business and good judges of material, and declare that the strata of clay which they have found at Buena Vista is of the finest quality, equal, perhaps, to any in the United States, and when they shall have perfected all the necessary cleansing machinery, they will be able to furnish the finest quality of ware. There purpose is to extend the capacity of their establishment to the extent of the demand of the State, and it is to be hoped the people will sustain them in this commendable purpose, for home manufacture is what we want; it increases employment, business, markets, and keeps the money amongst us

NEWS FROM PEN D'ORFILLE LAKE

The Walla Walla Statesman of the 10th inst. publishes the following:

The steamer Mary Moody commenced running on Pen d'Oreille Lake on March 29, 1867, carrying a party of seven men, who immediately proceeded to work opening the trail from the Oregon and Montana Transportation Company's upper boat-yard, at the head of Cabinet Portage, and by the 10th of April had cleared the trail of snow, so that travelers passed through to Vermilion River, a distance of 40 miles, at an expense of $300 to the company At that time, from Vermilion through to Missoula and Helena there was no snow.

Up to the 12th of April, the steamer made five trips to Cabinet, carrying the mail and a few miners and travelers, with their horses On the 12th of April the first pack trains went up, and went directly through without difficulty. On the 1st of May those trains were arriving at Missoula City, a distance of 180 miles from Cabinet (or upper) Landing, to the surprise of every one Owing to the lateness of the season—a quantity of snow having fallen about the 1st of March—and the reported depth of snow on the trail, trains were not expected earlier than the 10th of May. Trains that went by way of Boise had not been heard from at Missoula up to the 1st of May, although they left this place at the same time as the trains by the way of Pen d'Oreille, which is conclusive evidence that trains and travel can go to Montana by this route earlier and in a shorter time than by any other, and at a less expense, as the money paid out for feeding animal in early spring far exceeds the cost of transportation by steamer across the lake From the 12th to the 30th of April the steamer Mary Moody made twenty eight trips, or one and a half trips daily, a distance of fifty miles between landings, transporting in said time over one thousand two hundred animals, with their cargoes, and one hundred and forty eight miners or travelers, besides packers to the number of 150. Passage for the 50 miles, $4, and same for riding and miner's pack animals, $3 per head for pack trains, including cargoes; $3 for riding and loose animals in trains. This, considering the location of the boat, cost of transportation of freight from this place to Pen d'Oreille, labor, and expenses of living, is cheaper than any steamboat fare and transportation on this coast, and any reasonable or thinking person, by comparing these rates with the rates on the Willamette and Columbia rivers, will perceive at once that they are one-third less.

The Company have their second boat, of 100 tons carrying capacity, now finished, and in style and finish equal to the Columbia river boats, with corresponding power. They will have their third boat completed and ready for service by the first of June, which will give a complete and reliable line of steamers for a distance of 120 miles, from Pen d'Oreille Landing to Tompson's river, with good wagon roads to the Columbia river and to Missoula City and Helena, in Montana Fare and transportation will be, on the line through, correspondingly cheap, as now on the steamer Mary Moody or lake boat. This route avoids the Coeur d'Alene range of mountains, giving speedy and easy transportation for eight months in the year. Last winter, boats could have run without interruption excepting ten days, when the river was closed with ice. The Lake does not freeze over at all.

Now then, what the business men and farmers of Walla Walla and vicinity want is a well finished wagon road from this place to the Lake, which will give quick and cheap freights, and especially easy and speedy accommodations for travel, as a good line of stages, running regularly twice or three times a week, making the trip through in two days, which can easily be done

From H. A. Hogue, who arrived last night from the Lake, in two days traveling time, by what is known as the Kentuck route, we learn that the route is good now, and with a small outlay of money can be made in very short time a first class stage and wagon road He thinks it the shortest route from Walla Walla to the Lake, perhaps less, but not exceeding 165 miles, and as good a natural road as he ever traveled upon, for the distance Splendid grazing and farming land lines the road on either side, and towards the mountains many miles in width, with an abundance of water and plenty of fine camping places Being almost entirely free from rock it, it has as few miry places as any of the other routes Mr. Hogue has traveled all the routes from this place, any of which can be made a good wagon road with comparatively little expense, but in his opinion the Kentuck route can be made the best road for the least money and is the shortest, and whilst he would not nor does not assume to be the advocate for this particular or any other route, he thinks it very strange that the people of Walla Walla and vicinity do not make some efforts to unite upon some one of the different routes, compromise the Ferry Companies, and build a good stage and wagon road to the Lake.

THE STARERS —The immodest New York lady correspondent of the S F. Call, (who may be a man for all we know) spending of the new bridge over Broadway, which has become a necessity on account of the immense number of vehicles upon that thoroughfare, says

It is an iron structure seventeen feet high and will look well enough, but it will require as many policemen to keep people moving on who ascend it, as are now demanded to see them across the rue. Feminine delicacy, which the bridge was put up to accommodate, also objects warmly to the steps, or rather to the starers—for vulgar fellows will collect at the foot of the steps to study comparative anatomy—(ahem!) and although lifting hoops are out of fashion the street dresses now worn are dreadful things under peculiar circumstances The young men, too, nowadays are so shameless.

JOHNSON'S OREGON OR RECONSTRUCTION —The Washington Star, in referring to the reconstruction bill, says

Fortunately, the supplemental reconstruction bill, when it becomes law, will relieve the southern masses without distinction of color from all danger from the schemes of both extremes referred to above It will compel the prompt reorganization of all the Southern States' governments in accordance with the spirit of the times, which secures the necessary downfall of the influence of the secession leaders over the Southern people, the great desideratum in that quarter

The Idaho World is now issued semi-weekly. The first number of the semi weekly paper appeared on the 4th inst. James O Mears is editor.

A CHALLENGE TO THE CLERGY!

To the Clergymen of the Pacific Coast.

REV. GENTLEMEN —I hereby extend a challenge to any one of you whom your religious organization will endorse as being capable of defending your articles of faith, to meet me in this city in oral discussion on the following questions

1. Do the spirits of the departed possess power to return and communicate intelligently with their friends in the earth life?

I taking the affirmative; you the negative. Discuss two days.

2. Are the teachings of Spiritualism immoral in their tendencies, as compared with the teachings of the Bible and Christianity?

You to take the affirmative and I the negative Discuss two days. An early reply is desired

Yours respectfully,
my13d3p0t BENJAMIN TODD.

CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000!

Directors:

LOUIS A. GARNETT.

LOUIS A GARNETT President and Manager.
JOHN HEWSTON, Jr Chemist and Superintendent.

THIS COMPANY HAVING GREATLY enlarged their Refining Works, and introduced many other important improvements, are pleased to announce that they feel warranted in again reducing materially their terms of doing business.

THE TARIFF OF CHARGES

Which they now submit to the public—considered with reference to the cost of material and labor—is lower than in any other part of the world, and secures to the mining interest of this coast an important increase in both the mining and commercial value of bullion

Their charges hereafter will be as follows:

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED GOLD BARS

One eighth of one per cent, (heretofore a quarter) for all amounts over $1,000 and two dollars for any smaller sum. Returns made in twenty-four hours.

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED SILVER BARS.

Two dollars for the gold contained, up to $1,000, and one-eighth of one per cent, for all amounts over that sum, and one per cent. on the silver contained Returns made in twenty-four hours.

FOR REFINING DEPOSITS MADE FOR COIN OR FINE BARS.

On bullion under 300 parts gold, 2 cents per ounce
On bullion from 300½@600 parts gold, 4 cents per ounce
On bullion from 600½@750 parts gold, 6 cents per ounce
On bullion from 750½@900 parts gold, 8 cents per ounce
Above 950 the only charge will be for coinage But there will be no charge for refining less than two dollars

FOR COINING GOLD.

This charge will be the same as at the Mint—a half of one per cent.—and which is paid by us to that institution But there will be no charge in future for making fine gold or silver bars from bullion refined by us

RETURNS IN COIN IN FORTY EIGHT HOURS.

Silver contained in deposits for coin will be accounted for at the same rate customary at the Mint.

Gold bars of other Assayers, in good standing, will be coined by us at the highest market rates

Dust and bullion can be forwarded to us from any part of the country, and returns made through Wells, Fargo & Co's Express

CHARGES AT U S BRANCH MINT

For the convenience of those not familiar with the terms of the Mint, we subjoin the tariff of charges now in force at that institution

For refining bullion under 300 parts gold, 8 cents per ounce
For refining bullion from 300½@600 parts gold, 6 cents per ounce
For refining bullion from 600½@750 parts gold, 7 cents per ounce
For refining bullion from 750½@830 parts gold, 11 cents per ounce;
For refining bullion from 830½@949½ parts gold, 14 cents per ounce
The charge for coinage is half of one per cent, and the charge for making fine silver bars, the same

Comparing the net value of deposits for coinage, with the proceeds of unparted gold bars sold in the market—assuming that the bars lines cost ½ of one per cent—they must be sold at the following par rates to equal the return which would have been made had they been deposited for coinage

850 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents
845 par to equal San Francisco Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents
856 par to equal San Francisco A & R Works return, at refining charge of 8 cents.

CIRCUIT COURT FOR CLATSOP COUNTY.—The following is the decision of Judge Shattuck in the case of Guy vs a vessel, name unknown, Cyrus Olney claimant, tried recently, and in which the decision was reserved and rendered within the last few days:

Held that, when one contracts with the owner of materials to build a vessel for a stipulated price and the contractor hires men to do the work, such contractor is not, in the true intent and meaning of the statute, "an owner, agent or master," and cannot by any contracts with his journeymen or servants, bind the vessel or the owner beyond the contract price. Held, also, that a journeyman or sub-contractor employed by the contractor has a lien on the vessel for his pay. Such a debt is one against the contractor personally. Held, also, that it is not necessary that a vessel should have been launched or actually used in navigating the waters of this State in order to entitle a builder or chief contractor to his lien under the statute. It is sufficient if the thing built be suitable and intended for navigating the waters of this State.

CHALLENGED TO CONTROVERSY.—Rev. Benj. Todd challenges the clergy of this city to debate with him a couple of problems in theology and morals. We doubt if this challenge will be accepted, and yet we cannot see why any clergyman whose belief is founded upon intelligence, should hesitate to meet Mr. Todd. He is an antagonist of no mean strength, of good address and a pleasant talker, and a debate need not go without the limits of a dignified controversy. If Mr. Todd's view of the questions proposed are false, it may be easy enough to show it and thus prevent many from slunking after a delusion. If it is a delusion, the ministers of the orthodox gospel should not hesitate to meet it as they would any other error, and not shirk the responsibility by declaring it not worth their notice. There are many people of all grades and of no grade, who would be much pleased to hear such a discussion.

GRAND LODGE I. O. O. F.—The Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. will convene at the Odd Fellows' Hall in this city at 9 o'clock this morning, in annual session. The session will probably continue till Friday evening. Wm Morton, of Samaritan Lodge No. 2, of this city, is Worthy Grand Master, and Chester N Terry, of Chemeketa Lodge No. 1, of Salem, is Grand Secretary. The delegates from the lodges in this city are as follows: From Samaritan No. 2—J. Ringsley, C. H. Marvin, H. C. Coulson, J. P. Walker, Wm. Weisel, Wm. Morton, Wm. Bradon and W. W. Upton. From Hassalo No. 11—L. Goodman and E. T. Ross. The delegates from the Oregon City Lodge are Jos. M. Dacon, W. P. Burns, Arthur Warner, Fred. Charman and A. J. Marshall.

THE TURN VEREIN FESTIVAL.—The Festival of the Turn Verein of this city, next Sunday, will be held at "Pleasant Grove," about a mile and a half this side of Milwaukie. Upon arriving at the grounds, the festival will open with saturation in German, by Mr. F. S. Ostheim, to be followed by an address in English by Mr. D. Freidenich. Then there will be gymnastic exercises by the Turners, singing, dancing, etc. The steamer to convey the party, will leave the wharf at the foot of Washington street at 8 o'clock A. M., and will ply between the city and Pleasant Grove during the day. Tickets, $1 for gentlemen, 50 cts. for ladies; may be had of Mr. F. S. Ostheim, Isaac Rosenfelt, Schonfield & Co.'s, or of the committee.

THE LAW LECTURE OF THE CITIZENS' COURSE.—The last lecture of the Citizens' Course was delivered Monday evening, at Oro Fino Hall, by Rev. G. H. Atkinson, D. D., on Free Trade. The lecturer handled his subject—Teachable—s with much ability, drawing liberally upon the Greek, Roman and Hebrew learning and from sacred and profane history. He, also, pressed into his service British literature and presented to the young men of learning a claim to assertion by holding up the examples of Howard and Yale, whose names have become imperishable in America and which give grace and honor to the New England of to-day. The audience evinced its appreciation of the lecturer by impulsive and continued applause, at its close.

A CURIOUS CASE.—We have just heard a curious statement about the doings of a small child in this city, less than two years old. A few days since it was found suspended by a rope around its neck and undergoing the strangulation of hanging. Very fortunately, it had not been so long in this condition but that it was soon restored to consciousness. The circumstances indicate that the child had fixed the rope around its neck and then swung off on an elevation. Some think it a remarkable case of attempted suicide; but the more probable theory is that the child was simply imitating some performance it has seen and had no thought or conception of the consequences.

RECORDER'S COURT.—In the Recorder's Court yesterday, Joe Taylor for an assault and battery upon Dan Watson, was fined $5, and costs. The examination of a second charge against him, of threatening the life of Dan Watson, was continued till this morning.

Charles Lee was arraigned and fined on a charge of disorderly conduct, Sunday evening, by using profane and indecent language in the street—a part of the same row for engaging in which, Elizabeth Lee and Mary Claydad were fined. Lee was found guilty and fined $20 and costs, in default of which, to go to jail for ten days.

SOUTHERN RELIEF MEETING.—A large number of the leading merchants and others of this city, have appended their names to a card calling a public meeting next Friday evening at the Oro Fino Hall, in aid of the Southern Relief Fund. It is presumed that speeches will be made, and all those who acknowledge the obligations which the people owe to the suffering sufferers, are earnestly invited to attend. We are requested to say that Wells, Fargo & Co., have generously offered to transmit, free of charge, any funds which may be raised, either to San Francisco or New York.

ARRESTED FOR LARCENY.—Jack Gilman, an old habitue of both city and county jails, was arrested last evening by Deputy Marshals Saunders and O'Connor on the charge of stealing a pair of boots. He was nabbed in the lower part of the city and taken to the county jail. During his forced march, he made the streets resound with rollicking threats of vengeance and blasphemous oaths. He declined at first to walk, but a little touch of the New York style of what—s, had a wonderfully persuasive effect on him, and for the rest of the way contented himself with execrations upon the officers.

CIRCUIT COURT SHATTUCK, JUDGE.—In the Circuit Court yesterday, the 14th, the following proceedings were had:

Rosenbaum et al., vs. L. C. Fuller et al; submitted on evidence and acquitted of counsel; decision reserved.

Fields vs. Lowndale, Squires et al; motion by Squires, a resident of Kentucky, for transfer to U. S. District Court; decision reserved.

McIlvain vs. City of Portland; set for the 16th.

CIRCUIT COURT—DEADY JUSTICE.—Tuesday May 14th U. S. vs. Farquahar; suit to recover penalty for violation of the U. S. Revenue laws; tried, verdict guilty; penalty $50 and costs.

Jacob Frey, a defaulting witness, was brought in on attachment, and fined the costs of the writ.

The trial Jurors were all excused from further attendance.

AN ARM SHOOTING MATCH.—The same parties who had the shooting match on last Saturday—Tom Tucker and George Jones—have arranged for another match to come off soon, for $50 a side or as much more as either party may wish to risk on the result. In the match of last Saturday, Tom Tucker won the purse and, we understand, the pending match is challenged by the losing party.

TWO TRIPS.—The Senator, after making her regular trip yesterday afternoon, returned to Oregon City at 4 o'clock to bring down the passengers from the upper Willamette, expected to arrive by the Enterprise at 6 o'clock. A large number of delegates to the Odd Fellows' Grand Lodge were among the passengers.

RUSHING AN ENGINE.—Gen. Allen Engine Co. No. 3, of Vancouver, having completed their engine house, performed the ceremony, last evening, of housing their engine. The building is only one story as present, but is large and well finished—a credit to the department.

A MATCH RACE.—A match race has been arranged between W. R. Hill's mare "Kate Barling" and Goldsmith's mare "Dolly," to be run at 3 P. M. next Thursday, at the White House. The race is a single dash of half a mile for $75 a side.

NOT A "ROOK."—In our item on the state of the match chess game on Monday evening, the types by mistake made us say that "Mr. Blumenthal had his queen, one castle, one bishop, one rook and four pawns!" For "rook" it should have read knight.

WILLAMETTE FREIGHTS.—Arrived per steamer Senator from Oregon City, Tuesday, May 14th: 1096 qr sks flour, 100 sks bran, 80 sks middlings, 70 bags oats, 1 bale sage, 120 bags wheat, 50 boxes apples, 2 gunnies bacon, 3 pots flowers.

WEDDING.—The wedding of well known parties in this city, took place publicly at the Presbyterian Church last evening, attracting to the church a large number of interested spectators.

NEW BASE BALL CLUB.—A meeting of the members of the new base ball clubs will be held Friday evening for the purpose of effecting an organization

TREASURE RECEIPTS.—By the Cascade yesterday afternoon, Wells, Fargo & Co. received $30,000 in treasure.

IRON FRONTS.—The castings for an iron front, were on the wharf yesterday, marked for Harrisburg.

PACIFIC SHIRTS.—Barman Bros., agents for the Pacific Shirt Manufactory, have received a large stock of them. Measures for shirts taken and shirts made to order.

NEW STYLES.—Mendelsoffer & Bros. are most indefatigable caterers to the public taste in hats. They have now a fresh lot of new styles for summer, among which are the "Diamond," "St. Cloud," "Yacht," etc. They have a large stock of all styles for summer wear (to dispose of at wholesale or retail, just as customers may desire. Manufacture to, also, manufacturing to order any or all styles.

THE RUSH FOR THE FAMILY DYE COLORS of Howe & Stevens is as great as ever. Once introduced to a family or neighborhood, and they spread like wildfire. The truth is, they are so nice to have about the house that every prudent and sensible matron will have them. Howe & Stevens employ some one hundred hands to keep up to orders. Sold by Smith & Davis.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.—From and after this day the well-known FRENCH LAFAYETTE RESTAURANT will serve a first-class table at the reduced price of Seven Dollars per week.

LETTER FROM BAKER COUNTY.

BAKER CITY, May 6th, 1867.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

After the mildest winter since the settlement of the country, we have had the most backward spring. The quarts mills here was over a month later starting this year than last, and the miners were that much later getting to work all over the county. Everything now, however, is moving with usual vigor. The quartz mills are thumping and banging, miners piping and sluicing, and even "Lo" has quit his winter retreat and begun his summer's work of replenishing his band of horses from the ranches of his pale faced brother.

Farming prospects over this country generally are thought to be better than ever before, though I fear that the great number of Chinese that are flocking into the country will eventually ruin it. The Chinese population of Baker county would fall little short of five thousand to-day, and scarcely a day passes without an accession to their number. I fear the time is not far distant when all will see the bad policy of admitting these degraded wretches into our mineral regions, as well as anywhere on the coast. Their introduction here I doubt not will benefit a few at the present time, but that it will be a curse to the masses I as firmly believe. There are through Eastern Oregon hundreds of acres of placer mines that are considered not sufficiently rich to justify working at the present prices of provisions that in a few years would be worked with profit by white men, and the money kept in the United States, which Chinamen are glad to work now, and at the rate they are pouring into the country will soon monopolize.

I am glad to hear that there is a prospect at last of having some troops stationed in this country to protect us from our Indian neighbors, as I am satisfied that without protection we would suffer more the coming summer than ever.

Something New in Dental Surgery.

Extracting teeth by Dr. Richardson's apparatus, with Ether or Rhigolene Spray, is local in its application, the tooth and surrounding parts only becoming insensible to pain. Those suffering from bad teeth can now have them removed free from pain and without the effects of inhaling chloroform, ether or nitrous oxide (laughing gas).

N. B.—To strangers I would say, that a constantly increasing Dental Practice for the last 5 years in Portland, will be a sufficient guarantee for them to receive a First-Class and Finished Piece of Work. Numerous testimonials to the same can be given at the Office.

AN ANTIDOTE FOR POISON.

THE PAIN KILLER.—Rev. T. Allen, writing from Tavoy, Burmah, says: "Within the past four years I have used and disposed of about five hundred bottles, but am now out. Please send me a fresh supply as soon as you can—say two hundred bottles. I dare not be without it myself, and there are endless calls for it, both by Burmans and Karens. I always take it with me into the jungles, and have frequent occasion to use it, both on myself and others. One night, while sleeping in an open Zayatie, I was awoke by a most excruciating pain in my foot. On examination, I found I had been bitten by a centipede. I immediately applied the Pain Killer, and found instant relief. In less than an hour I was again asleep."

Rev. Mr Hibbard, writing from Burmah to his father, says: "I have used Davis' Pain Killer for coughs, colds, summer complaints, burns, and for the sting of scorpions, with uniform success We always keep it where we can lay our hands on it in the dark, if need be." ap20d1o

Artemus Ward.

Is he gone to a land of no laughter,
This man that made mirth for us all?
Proves death but a silence hereafter
From the sounds that delight or appall?
Once I said but the life is more duty,
No more pleasure the exquisite ideal,
Has the heart done its throbbing, with beauty,
As the eyes have with tears?

Nay, if aught be sure, what can be surer
Than that the earth's gold decays not with earth!
And of all the heart's springs none are purer
Than the springs of the fountain of mirth.
It shall sounds thereof has pierced the heart's hollows,
The places where tears are and sleep,
For the foam flakes that dance in life's shallows
Are wrung from life's deep.

He came with a heart full of gladness
From the glad hearted world of the West—
Won our laughter, but not with mere madness
Spake and joked with us, not in more jest;
For the man in our heart lingered after,
When the merriment died from our ears,
And those that were loudest in laughter
Are silent in tears

WASN'T AGREEABLE.—A capital thing, true or fictitious, is thus told by the Chicago Journal, and, about a young man whose "society" was to be the equivalent for his board. It is full of quiet satire

H. L. Patton came before the Justice, and was clamorous in demanding a warrant for his landlady, who had unlawfully seized and detained his clothes, falsely claiming that he was indebted to her for rent, which was not the case. The landlady, Mrs E A. Barrett, was sent for, and it was suggested to her that an explanation would not be amiss Mrs. Barrett, after having her three daughters and little boy sworn, in order that she might use them if she saw fit, proceeded to state that she had three weeks before seen an advertisement stating that a young man wanted to find some boarding house where his society would be an equivalent for his board. Then she reflected that it would be a very nice thing to have a young fellow in the house who could beau the girls, talk agreeably at dinner, and be contented with what he had to eat, and persuade his fellow sufferers that they should be the same. He she answered the advertisement, and Patton made his appearance, with an umbrella and a meagre trunk. Was that not correct.

Patton replied that, generally speaking, it was. He could pass over the size on his trunk.

She then continued to state that she did not look for much of anything particularly sociable the first day. It was only fair that he should get acquainted. So she introduced him to everybody.

The next day, just before dinner, she told him to go ahead and be society. Instead of talking, however, he had devoted himself to eating with an earnestness and devotion, which, while it faltered the cook, bid fair to ruin the mistress. That same evening she had requested him to take the girls to a neighbors, and he had plead an engagement. These things had surprised and displeased her.

Mr. Patton here desired to know of the Justice whether "society," as he used in his advertisement, could be taken to mean carrying these homely girls to a party, where he was obliged to dance with them, as no one else would [here the girls chorally remarked, "Oh, you never!"] and juggling a quarrelsome child up stairs and then be compelled to sit by it until it went to sleep. Opinion reserved.

Mrs Barrett remarked that she scorned such insinuations. Being on oath she could conscientiously say that her daughters were not homely and that they did not need to go begging anywhere.

As for the boy, speaking under oath, he was the sweetest child in the world, and it was a pleasure to sit and listen to his prattle. How any person with the heart of a man could so blackly slander him she could not see. But notwithstanding her remonstrances Patton would not talk at mealtime. He would not tell stories. He would not sing, talk to the girls, or be useful about the house. He demanded lunch, blasphemed he butter, and was once brought home very drunk. How he got drunk she did not know. Of course it was not with his own money.

Patton urged that it was immaterial, and it was decided that it was.

The next morning, being headachy, he had insulted her best boarder, and demanded three cups of coffee She told him that her patience was exhausted. He must pay her in paper, and not in words. He refused. She seized his baggage, and little enough it was.

Patton then quoted the familiar saying in regard to casting pearls before swine, and proceeded to make it clear to all that he looked upon his intercourse with Mrs. Barrett as an example of the folly of such a course. What true society meant the did not know. His quiet wit, his unobtrusive knowledge was wasted on them. They wanted some one to sing comic songs, propose conundrums and treat the girls. He had been nurtured in a different school. His ideas of society were very different.

"Yes, indeed," cried Mrs. Barrett, "he could not even play the accordeon!"

The Justice declined to give an opinion as to the value of Patton's society or what sort of society is equivalent for board, but decided that he should have his clothes and leave the house.

VIPERS.—A new work entitled "Land and Water" has the following about vipers:

A great outcry is being raised in the South of France against vipers, three kinds of which reptile are found in larger quantities than are pleasant. First, there is the reddish viper, or aspic, with its triangular head; then there is a smaller sort, with a short head, and a brown line running along the back; and the third viper has a pointed muzzle, which represents an elephant's trunk on a very small scale. All these vipers are venomous, and a good number of persons are killed by them every year. The effect of their bite varies according to the state of health of both reptile and victim and other circumstances. Fear, as in many other instances, is almost sure to be fatal to a person bitten, while moral energy goes a great way to destroy the effect of the poison. The viper prefers old parks which are well railed in and protected from his most deadly enemies, such as the wild boar and the common pig, which relish these reptiles as much as they do truffles. Next to the boar, the swan is perhaps the animal who most enjoys a viper. They are hunted by men and in some departments a price of from 2½d to 5d is set upon their heads. The viper hunters soon learn how to find their prey, what sort of ground he prefers, what winds he avoids, when he is likely to come out and bask in the sun, etc. Armed with a long stick and a kind of fork, the hunter pokes about for his game, when a viper is found, a stroke of the stick deftly given stuns him, and he is immediately pinned to the ground and finished with a sickle, which severs the head from the tail, but does not destroy vitality for some time, as the viper will bite twelve hours after being operated on. Some idea may be formed of the die-hard qualities of the viper, by the fact that these reptiles have been known to survive a couple of days' immersion in pure alcohol. Pounded viper used to be administered for certain maladies, but it has now almost disappeared from the pharmacopœia.

MOVING.—We clip the following from the Landmark, a paper published in Western Missouri, which is replete with some very beautiful sentiments:

We are at the beginning of our moving season. The Americans are emphatically a migratory race. We see families with droves of cattle and all their household goods, moving from Missouri to Kansas and from Kansas to Missouri. We think either State a good one to move from just now. And then the rosters are on the move. The first of March in the West, like washing day in New England, brings its peculiar trials and upturnings. Nearly every one not anchored by ownership in the soil, is on the tramp, hunting a new place of residence and toil for another year. How much richer and happier we would be as a people if every man owned a small farm and made of it a home which both secured him the comforts of life and gratified his pride. A home, we mean, not a stopping place for a year, but a home enriched, adorned and beautified by fertile fields and orchards, blushing vineyards, grassy lawns and beautiful shrubbery without, and by music and art and christian graces within, and made sacred by the graves of loved ones, not lost, but gone before—a home, sweet memories of which will abide with the children and to which they will fondly repair long after the cares of life have rested heavily on their hearts, and there, bathing their souls in a real fountain of youth, renew their vows to truth and duty and go forth stronger and better men and women. Ah, happy they, and thrice armed in the battle of life, whose hearts and feet are permitted to make joyful pilgrimage to such a Mecca, and refresh their weary souls at such a golden fountain.

More homes, more homes! We need them. We will never be a happy and prosperous people without them. This constant exchange, moving and scrambling is one of the evils of the social system of the West. And such homes are within the reach of all who are blessed with health and willing to do honest toil. Why not have them?

Mahommed Emin Pasha, Turkish Minister of Police, died recently, at the advanced age of 109 years. He started in the service as a private January, and gradually worked himself up to the post he occupied at the time of his death. Notwithstanding his great age, he retained his full faculties and much of his bodily vigor to the last, and continued to labor, on the average, ten hours a day

Mr Satterwaite, of Crosswicks, N J, caught on Tuesday last two mice of a light fawn color, with pink eyes Who can beat this?

What air does the young mouse sing to the old mouse, when biting his way through the sacnery at the opera? "Hear me gnaw ma"

"How do you define 'black as a hat?'" said a schoolmaster to one of his pupils "Darkness that can be 'felt,'" replied the youthful wag

Beauty in women and men is said to be increasing very rapidly in the United States, and gains faster in proportion than the increase of population.

A late decision by Judge Talliaferro, of the Supreme Court of Louisiana, is virtually to the effect that the Confederacy never existed as a Government de facto.

The manufacture of "antique" pottery, ancient enamels, and weapons of the middle ages, is said to employ several thousands of people in Germany.

The London Post says the Government has received dispatches from Zanzibar, stating that the Arab merchants there disbelieve the report of Dr. Livingstone's death.

The Michigan Legislature has repealed a State law, passed in 1855, forbidding Roman Catholic Bishops to hold property in trust for the benefit of their churches.

Manufacturing of cotton goods is very active in Texas, and at no distant day it is predicted that Lowell and Manchester will have a strong competition from this quarter.

An employee in a mill at Cohoes, which caught fire, recently, became frightened, and instead of raising the window to escape, jumped through it, cutting himself severely.

George B McClellan was graduated at West point in 1846, ranking number two. General Grant was graduated in the class of 1840, and ranked number twenty-one.

The young ladies of New Orleans are wearing ornaments in the shape of crescents. When a quadroon wears one it is referred to as an illustration of the Crescent and the Cross.

Mosby, the once notorious guerrilla leader, is now contentedly engaged at Richmond, Va., in the manufacture of corncob pipes, which he offers for sale to the tobacco smokers of that region.

It is stated that since the year 1860, over 000 lives have been lost, and $6,000,000 worth of property destroyed by accidents happening to persons using burning fluids made from petroleum.

Respect for the dead is sometimes carried to a fine point. A Whist Club in a Western city recently lost one of its members, and at the next meeting the cards had a mourning border around them.

Samuel Washington, the grandson of General Washington's brother Samuel, died in Delhi, Ohio, on the 18th of March He was the nearest remaining relative of Washington, and was eighty-one years old.

The Lancaster Election Commission in England finds that of 1,339 persons who voted at the last election, excluding about twenty since dead, 932, or more than two-thirds, were bribed in sums varying from £2 to £24.

From the statistics of the Registar General of England, it appears that a much larger number of the children born at the latter part of the summer die within a year of birth than is the case with those born at other periods.

Among the objects to be shown at the Universal Exhibition is a magnificent skeleton of a snake, found in the Pardo Mountions. It comprises no fewer than one thousand and forty-five rings perfectly arranged in a spiral form.

Mr Israel Diehl, a traveler in Asia and all parts of the East, has presented to the Commissioner of the General Land Office several very fine specimens of Cashmere wool, grown in Ohio and Missouri, where Cashmere goats are grown with great success. The first lot of these goats was imported at an expense of $1,000 each, and they are now sold at five dollars each. The wool is long and curly, and as soft as silk.

COURTSHIP IN FLORIDA.—A Southern correspondent of one of the New York journals gives the following description of a new and economical mode of courtship practiced in Florida

As you have never seen the language of pine I will give it here. A gentleman wishing to court a lady, and not wishing to face the music in person, sends his lady love a piece of pine, signifying, "I pine for thee," and she, wishing to give a favorable answer, sends in return a pine knot, meaning "Pine not," or if she wishes to say no, she sends him a burnt pine knot, thereby saying "I make light of your pine"

At a wedding in Raleigh, N. C., the invited guests, after the ceremony, was requested to pay ten dollars each to the bride, who was in such indigent circumstances that she had not the means to complete her wardrobe. Each person present promptly responded, and the sum raised amounted to about five hundred dollars. The bride thanked her friends for their generosity, kissed them all, and went home with her husband in the best of spirits
